MARKSMEN BATTLE BULLS IN PLAYOFF OPENING ROUND

For the second straight season under head coach Cory Melkert, the Marksmen have cracked the top-eight and are in the postseason. Fayetteville overcame a stretch of 0-8-2 in the middle of the year to win their final five regular season games to secure a playoff spot.

Birmingham returns to the playoffs after finishing outside the postseason picture last year. The Bulls are the league's most improved team boast a 37 win record.

OLD SEASON, NEW SEASON

In the regular season, the Bulls hosted the Marksmen in Pelham for every one of the team's five meetings. The Bulls went 4-1-0 against the Marksmen this season, scoring five goals in every win over Fayetteville this year.

SOME YOUNG STARS

During the week, both Austin Alger (FAY) and Taylor Brierly (BHM) were named to the SPHL All-Rookie Team. Brierly would go on to secure second team All-SPHL honors while Bulls forward Michael Gillespie was named a top-team All-SPHL forward.

HOME SWEET HOME

The Fayetteville Marksmen played 22 games at the Crown Coliseum where they gained at least a standings point this season. Meanwhile, Birmingham owns the league's best home record with 21 wins in Pelham this season.

A QUICK NOTE ON OVERTIME

The Marksmen had been 0-8 in overtimes this season until Carson Vance's game one OT winner on Thursday night. Fayetteville had not won an overtime game since April 8, 2022 when Don Olivieri defeated Roanoke in the last weekend of the regular season at the Crown Coliseum.

TALKING POINTS

PAINTING IT BLACK AND ORANGE

Fayetteville ended the regular season 8-2-0 in their last ten games, the best mark over the final ten in the league. The second hottest team to finish the season was Birmingham at 7-2-1 over their last ten. The Marksmen have not faced the Bulls since March 12 of this year.

PLAYOFF PAWLOSKI

After missing two months with an injury, G Jason Pawloski has returned for the Marksmen. Winning both games in the last weekend of the season, Pawloski finished this year 11-12-1 with a .913 save percentage.

"He's going to give us the chance to win games every night and he's one of the best if not the best when he's on," said head coach Cory Melkert.

Until Thursday, Pawloski had not seen playoff action since 2019.

ALL-ROOKIE ALGER AND MORE

Austin Alger logged 51 points this season (21g, 30a) and secured first team all-rookie honors for the Marksmen. He becomes the second Fayetteville forward in as many years to be recognized for outstanding play (Taylor Best '22). Also making names for themselves are Grant Loven (Canisius) who scored three points (2g, 1a) in his first three pro games, Dalton Hunter (Mercyhurst) who had three goals in three games to end the regular season, and John Moncovich (Utica) who has four goals in six pro games.

THE WRONG KIND OF HIGH FIVE

Birmingham finished the season with 217 goals, tied for second in total offense with Peoria and just four goals back of Knoxville.

The Bulls have scored five goals in each of their four wins over the Marksmen during the regular season. They won each by a margin of at least three.

BOX OUT

The Marksmen finished the regular season with the league's third rated penalty kill (80.1%). Aiding in the effort for the Marksmen is the fact they been short-handed the fewest times of anyone as the least penalized team in the league. The kill has improved 12 percent points since November.

GETTING TO THE FINISH LINE

The Marksmen have made the postseason twice prior to this season, losing both of their opening rounds in three-game series after winning game one. The Marksmen have not won a playoff series in team history.

Season	Opponent	Game 1 score	Res.
2019-20	Birmingham	4-0 FAY	L 2-1
2021-22	Quad City	3-2 FAY	L 2-1
2022-23	Birmingham	3-2 FAY (OT)	?

HOME SWEET HOME

With their win on Thursday, the Marksmen have secure 17 wins at the Crown Coliseum this year (regular season and playoffs). On the road, the Marksmen are 10-16-2 and have only five road wins since the new year (three at Quad City, two at Roanoke).

Birmingham boasts the best home record in the SPHL this season with 21 wins in Pelham.

TAMING THE BULL

Since suffering back-to-back losses vs. Birmingham on March 11 and 12 the Marksmen have not lost back-to-back games, winning nine of their last ten including the playoffs.

"We feel as though everyone is taking us lightly, and we like that. I don't think we're getting respect from many people including our opponent and that's what we want," said Cory Melkert Thursday.

Birmingham's last loss to the Marksmen at home came on December 18 by a final of 6-1.

OWNER AND PRESIDENT, CHUCK NORRIS

Chuck Norris, the owner and president of the Fayetteville Marksmen, purchased the franchise in April 2017.

Wanting to connect the team with the city of Fayetteville and the community around the Sandhills of North Carolina, Norris rebranded the team as “the Marksmen,” a nod to the many soldiers and veterans in the Ft Bragg area.

A former U.S. Army Paratrooper himself, Norris served in the 3rd Special Forces Group (Airborne) from 1989-1993 and is a veteran of Operation Desert Storm.

In July 1993, Norris began his post-military life as the owner and operator of SUBS Car Audio and later added a retail furniture store known as Furniture Express, Inc.

Norris established Charles Norris Construction, Inc. in 1998. Since then, Norris Construction has developed 8 different residential neighborhoods, consisting of 300+ homes in Cumberland, Hoke, and Harnett Counties.

Today, Norris resides in Weddington, N.C. with his wife, Lanai, and their three children Chucky, Lilly, and Khloe.

PRE-PRO CAREER

Melkert started his hockey career in the OJHL with the Gloucester Rangers and finished with the Trenton Golden Hawks. He played college hockey for SUNY-Fredonia, logging 10 points in 90 games for the Blue Devils. He served as the school's captain in 2014-15, his senior season.

HEAD COACH, CORY MELKERT

Cory Melkert was hired as the fifth head coach in Fayetteville Marksmen history in July 2020. Melkert had previously served as the team's assistant coach the prior season. He nows holds the team record for wins, surpassing Jesse Kallechy on February 10 in a 3-2 win over Macon.

A native of Kenmore, Ont., Melkert was a well-respected defenseman with the OJHL's Trenton Golden Hawks. After logging 38 points in 45 games with Trenton, Melkert began his collegiate career with SUNY-Fredonia (NCAA D-III).

Melkert played 90 games with the Blue Devils and served as the team captain his senior season.

After graduation, Melkert played in Germany's third-tier league with EHC Timmendorfer Strand before returning to the U.S. in 2016-17 with the SPHL's Roanoke Rail Yard Dawgs.

Melkert would go on to play 152 games in the SPHL, 81 of them coming with the Evansville Thunderbolts. He would receive one call-up to the ECHL's Wichita Thunder in 2017-18.

The final stop in Melkert's playing career was with the Marksmen where both ownership and the then-current coaching staff recognized his ability as a potential coach and leader.
